

STEVEN RHALL

Photography

Steven Rhall has been making images and learning the medium of photography since the age of ten. Whilst practicing as a commercial photographer, he enjoys the self-expression, freedom and chance for personal development that exists within fine art photomedia. He finds the broad scope of visual and audio mediums quite liberating. Documentation via audio, still and moving images frame most of his practice. The ability to document an individual, idea, or history from a personal perspective is what he enjoys most.
